The SPORTING WORLD

Strongest College Man.
Carl Guy Herbert is one of the most remarkable athletes in the intercollegiate world. Regardless of the fact that he is but 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighs but 145 pounds, he has smashed

CARL GUY HERBERT.

ed all previous power test records and is now heralded as the strongest man in the American colleges.
Herbert is a Harvard student. When he entered college five years ago, he was but a mere stripling. His strength was little above that of the average college student. By a moderate amount of exercise, taken systematically, he succeeded in attaining his present stage of development.
The champion's strength register under the Sargent system was 1,363.5 points. In 1896 the best mark then made was 805 points, a showing that can be equaled by more than 200 men now in college.

Hanan Describes His Stroke.
Edward Hanan, who is in charge of the Columbia University crew, says in regard to his stroke:

"The characteristics of my stroke are a long stride, well forward, the knees bunched under the armpits, a small body reach, with the body as erect as possible. As soon as the oar dips into the water the legs are jammed down hard, the weight of the body is on the loins muscles, and the arms move in unison with the legs. When the slide is over, the hands are shot out on the oar from the body over the knees in the same position they were brought in, and the slide is again carried forward by the catch, which is not pronounced, as the oar meets the water at an angle of 90 degrees."

Nat Butler's Predicament.
The National Cycling association is a purely American institution and is closely allied with the American Racing Cyclists' union, which has elected a boycott against Nat Butler. The N. C. A. endorses the action by taking no cognizance of it. Butler's offense was to desert the A. R. C. U. for the L. A. W. two years ago while the fight for supremacy was on between the L. A. W. and the N. C. A. Butler was a sort of double jump, first joining the A. R. C. U. and then going back again to the L. A. W. To punish him for his fickleness the union suspended him for life. He has been supplicating ever since for reinstatement and has frequently been denied. He is now in a quandary, as he is in the belief that his case will be decided in his favor at the next meeting of the union. Unfortunately for Butler the authority of the courts cannot be invoked in a case like this.

MOST COSTLY OF DRUGS.

Some Sell at Retail For More Than Their Weight in Gold.

"The price of many drugs used in medicine is astonishing to those who are not acquainted with the subject," remarked a druggist. "There are several that weigh their weight in gold (about $20 an ounce), while $2, $3 or $5 an ounce are quite common prices in pharmacy. I filled a prescription the other day that cost $25. But there is one drug that I can recall which is worth much more than its weight in gold. That is pseudo-platina. I don't think that it has a popular name. It is too rich for that. In the pharmacists' list it is quoted at $1 a grain, or $437.50 an ounce. The seed from which the drug is made grows in India and Brazil, as well as in parts of South Africa. This seed, tradition says, was once used by native chiefs as an ordeal. The ordeal generally resulted in the death of the man upon whom it was tried and so was considered as a great trial finder. The prepared drug is sometimes used now in prescriptions for the treatment of heart disease.
"Another drug which takes the pain for costliness is, curiously enough, the one which is perhaps the most widely known by name of them all to the general public—muscle. Its retail price at the present moment is about $50 an ounce, $500 a pound apothecary, or 2½ times the value of pure gold, 24 carats fine. It is obtained from the musk deer, a very rare animal, and is contained in a follicle, of which there is only one in each animal, so that an ounce of the drug represents approximately one of these precious animals. As it is largely used for scent, the demand constantly exceeds the supply, and the price has been steadily advancing. There is no reason why it should not go to $250 or $500 an ounce during the next few years, as the musk deer is gradually vanishing from the face of the earth."—Kansas City Journal.

LAND FOR SETTLERS.

Facts About the Kiowa Reservation in Oklahoma.

SOIL RICH AND STREAMS ABOUND.

Chicagoan Who Has Traveled Over the Reservation Says It is One of the Best Watered Tracts West of the Mississippi—Plan to Avoid Wild Scrambles.

Down in the southern corner of Oklahoma lies a patch of Indian land with swarming lines of whites surrounding it and awaiting the word to rush in and fill it with civilization. Patch may hardly be the word, for there are about 4,000 square miles of rolling prairie. With a rich soil, few hills and many streams, it is said to be one of the fairest pieces of virgin soil known to man.

This land of promise is now the reservation of the Kiowa, Apache and Comanche tribes. Uncle Sam has made a treaty by which the Indians are to choose farms in severalty and then give up the rest of the land in exchange for $2,000,000. The president is expected to issue a proclamation within the next three months throwing open this free territory to settlement under the homestead act. Already hungry thousands of prospective settlers have flocked into the towns of Oklahoma, Indian Territory and Texas on the border of the reservation, and other thousands are in camp along the boundary line.

If old methods are followed, the grand rush will make another of the picturesque events in the history of the west. There are supposed to be more than 2,500,000 acres of land in the reservation. The Indians number about 3,000. Each of them is entitled to select a farm of 160 acres, which will require 450,000 acres. The government will also set aside for them 450,000 acres of grazing lands in one or more tracts. The Indians will therefore retain 900,000 acres, leaving more than 1,600,000 acres, possibly as many as 2,000,000, for the whites.

Henry McCurren of Chicago recently drove about the reservation in a car to spy out the land and bring back information that has the merit of being disinterested and competent.

"I drove from Ash Grove, in the north-eastern corner of the reservation, to Fort Sill and beyond and made side trips," said Mr. McCurren to a reporter of the Chicago Record-Herald. "The country impressed me as being one of the finest tracts I had ever seen. It is only cultivated by the Indians in a few spots, so that most of it is virgin. The land is rolling, like that of Iowa. On the map you will find one section marked Wichita mountains, but in the far west they would rank only as hills. The Keechee hills, in the northeast corner, are insignificant affairs. It is an important fact that the reservation is covered with a network of streams, and I found these all with clear running water. It is one of the best watered tracts west of the Mississippi. Most of the streams have well defined banks five to ten feet high, and many of them have gravelly bottoms.

"In the northern part of the reservation the soil is a rich red, while farther south it is more of a black loam. It is deep and fertile, and I saw corn growing 15 feet high. There were also crops of cotton, wheat and grass. There are beautiful valleys in every direction and many long, grassy meadows in the bottoms of the creeks. The land south of Fort Sill appears to be richer than that to the north, and it is somewhat better watered. I spent two weeks wandering about the reservation, and I frankly admit I was delighted with it.

"It is expected the president will issue his proclamation not later than Aug. 6. The people of that section hope to avoid the old time stampede, with its stamping of claims and crime, and they have asked the authorities to allot the land by a sort of lottery. It is proposed that every one wanting to take up land shall register his name with certain officials and deposit $14 to cover the usual fees. As a stated time the books are to be closed, and the quarter sections are to be divided among the applicants by lot. This will give all an equal chance instead of giving the strong and the criminal the advantage.

"The theory in that country is that the reservation will be divided about equally into four counties, which will belong to Oklahoma. The government will reserve town sites for county seats, and the lots will be sold by auction, no one buyer being permitted to bid in more than one business and one residence lot. The government will also reserve certain lands from entry for the benefit of education. Sections 16 and 36 of each township will be reserved for the common schools and sections 13 and 33 for the normal, agricultural college, normal school and public buildings of Oklahoma.

"There is a strong impression in Oklahoma that the chief town in the new country will be located near Fort Sill, probably somewhat to the south of it in order to get the benefit of a stream with a good flow of water. They are already talking of a probable town of 10,000."

Russia's Great Canal Scheme.

United States Consul Hughes of Cough informs the state department at Washington that a canal to unite the Caspian and Black seas is under consideration. The projected canal would be 23 feet deep and about 150 feet broad. It will begin at Astrakhan, on the Caspian, and end at the harbor of Taganrog, on the sea of Azov. It is estimated that the cost will be about 40,000,000 rubles ($20,000,000).

How the Artist Was Called.

When Honey S. Watson, the illustrator, landed at Naples, he did not know much about European travel. He had to make some sketches in the villages about Naples, and his experiences have filled him with wonder enough for a lifetime. His deft pencil helped him a bit. At one little village Inn he tried to get it through the landlord's head that he was to be called early in the morning. He couldn't make himself understood. At last he drew a picture of himself lying in bed, the sun peeping through the window, the clock at the hour of 6 and the chambermaid knocking at the door. Then it was quite plain, and they woke him on the tick—Saturday Evening Post.

Bull Baiting.

Although bull baiting was a cruel pastime, it was also a fulfilling of the law, for formerly no butcher was allowed to offer for sale the flesh of any bull that had not been baited. The goading of the animal in a fury was supposed to have some influence on the flesh. In a similar belief the flesh of a hunted hare was thought to be superior in flavor to that of one that had been shot, and a present of a "hunted hare" was considered to be a special compliment. In the records of the corporation of Leicester, England, the following order appears: "At a common hall, held on Thursday before St. Simon and St. Jude, 1487, 'no butcher to kill a bull till baited.'"

A Mule as a Life Saver.

The mine mule knows a life or two quite as well as does the army mule. In case of a mine disaster, the mule is the district the ever patient mule proved himself possessed of an almost human sense of coming danger. One morning when the full shift was at work there occurred an unusual thing. The air currents had seemed defective, and there was a restless feeling among the miners, something like the uneasiness of live stock before a storm. A few days previous a chamber had been closed on account of gas, and the men were instinctively thinking of what that might mean. Suddenly there was a clatter of hoofs, and a mule appeared. Its long ears were quivering, and its intelligent eyes were full of terror. It gave a shrill bray and then was gone down the entry, broken traces flying after it. The men looked at one another, and then the feverishness of the air and the feeling of impending disaster were all forgotten. Dropping picks, they fled precipitately, making a headlong dash through the labyrinth for the open air. With scared faces other miners joined them, and while they were wondering what it all meant a dull, deep explosion went rumbling through the hollow back of them, followed by wave upon wave of noxious vapors. Then they understood. When the bodies of the few poor men who had been hopelessly entrapped were recovered, another was tenderly carried out with theirs—that of the mule. ### Serpent Worship.

It was probably in the character of a healer that the serpent was regarded by the Milesians, since most of the legends of Ireland connected with traditions of these reptiles destroyed by St. Patrick were esteemed places of healing. To these spots, generally holy wells, the people of the poor and ignorant classes still resort as pious pilgrims taking relief from their infirmities. They drink of the sacred waters and circle about the fount on their knees while repeating their prayers, and it is a curious fact, as we are informed by an old time traveler in Ireland, that this circling was formerly done "proceeding on hands and knees or even lying flat on the ground and wriggling like a snake." This must undoubtedly have been a relic of the ancient rites, though the people had not the slightest idea of its origin or even that such a religion had ever existed on the island.

In the same way they still on Bel-tane eve (Bel-tine, or Bel's) kindle "bale fires" on the summit of every hill and send flaming wheels rolling down their sides, though ignorant that they are celebrating a day consecrated to Bel, or Baal, by their Pagan and Irish ancestors, who observed it in a precisely similar manner.—New Edinburgh.

Ingratitude.

"No, I won't give you a piece of my apple," snarled his sister.
"And who was it?" the boy inquired reproachfully, "that spoiled the piano so you didn't have to practice for a week?"—Philadelphia Times.

Most of the candidates who were defeated on Saturday have taken their defeat with good grace and are already in line to meet the common enemy in November. This is simply pure Democracy. The growler who goes around telling what the result would be if it was all gone over again and saying that his successful opponent was not yet elected, is virtually admitting that he is not doing what he is honor bound himself to do, to support the nominee of the primary. All good democrats will do all in their power to see that the nominees are elected. As for the others, they are like the poor, "Ye have them always with you."

CHARMING MME. TULLY.

OF NEW ORLEANS.

Will receive the ladies of Paris in her parlors, rooms 29 and 30, parlor floor, Windsor Hotel, from 10 to 11 a. m. 5 p. m. every day, beginning Tuesday, May 29, and demonstrate how her electrical treatment will remove wrinkles in one application. Ladies are invited to call any day and see that massage and steaming the complexion are things of the past. Walk up one flight of stairs at the 'a lie's' entrance.

AMERICA'S GREATEST DERMATOLOGIST.

Madame Tully comes to Paris for a short visit at the request of ladies who have heard of the wonderful success of her treatment in other cities. It has been a long time since the ladies of Paris have had an opportunity of consulting such a scientific expert as Madame Tully. She is well named, "Charming Madame Tully," for she is a refined and handsome woman, and her superb complexion is a striking proof of the efficacy of her knowledge of dermatology.

A LEXINGTON TESTIMONIAL.

The Lexington-Leader said of Madame Tully on the occasion of her visit to that city last week:

"The accomplished Madame Tully, who has been celebrated for more than 14 years as the most advanced expert of the art in the successful treatment of all facial blemishes and skin diseases, has arrived in Lexington and has taken apartments at the Phoenix Hotel. This charming lady is credited by the highest authorities of fashionable society with the magic power to convert permanently the wrinkles of age and all blemishes of the features into the very bloom of youthful youth. She comes with trained assistants to introduce the latest European discovery, the new thermo-electric treatment, which has created so much excitement abroad by actually restoring the features, no matter how old or wrinkled or discolored by age, the plumpness and charm of sweet 16. The process is a secret, but that it is a success beyond all doubt or question in every case is not only guaranteed by Madame Tully herself, but proclaimed by the elite of Eastern and Southern society, where ladies have greeted its recent introduction with all manner of enthusiasm as a real and lasting solution of the problem of perpetual youth and beauty. Under the magic touch of the fair mistress of this art, ladies with fairly good complexions improved remarkably, and even those who have long since surrendered to the 'crow feet' or to blotches, scars or blemishes of any sort are delighted to find their features restored permanently as by enchantment after only two weeks' treatment."

A BOON TO THE LADIES.

Madame Tully has thousands of letters testifying to her skill and will be pleased to show many of them to her callers.

Everybody can be her own dermatologist with Madame Tully's treatment and appliances. She will sell complete outfits for home use, with guarantee of beneficial results.

One of Madame Tully's outfits includes electric rollers with astringents for removing wrinkles; electric cap, electric batteries, and facial skin foods. These batteries are also successfully used for constitutional and nervous diseases.

Madame Tully will teach anybody who desire to make a profession of facial and skin treatment and supply her with outfits and all needed supplies.

TO RESTORE DISCOLORED HAIR.

Madame Tully secured on a recent visit to Paris, France, the latest and most successful treatment for restoring discolored hair to its natural color or to a dark chestnut red. Indeed, all colors of hair can be changed to this new chestnut or brownish red, that is so popular in New York and Paris, France.

Madame Tully guarantees that this Parisian preparation is not a dye, or in any way injurious to the hair, but is really a stimulant which promotes growth and gives a beautiful and new life to the hair.

Scalps are treated with electricity in Madame Tully's treatment.

State Homeopathic Society.

The Annual meeting of the Kentucky State Homeopathic Society will be held in Lexington next year. Dr. R. L. Clark, of Georgetown, was elected President of the society, and Dr. Hugh M. Clendenin, of this city one of the censors. At the session last week in Louisville, Dr. Clendenin spoke on the subjects of "Treatment of Chronic Wounds" and "Ophthalmia Neonatorum."

The acme of happiness to the young married couple is the advent of the first born. The next thing is the baby buggy. Of course they go to Hinton's.

The News' Guessing Contest.

The ten dollars in gold offered by The News for the first correct guess as to the winners of the Democratic Primary on Saturday last, was won by Mr. Elmer Foote, of this city, who, on February 21st last, guessed the entire ticket. The next nearest guess was that of Miss Nannie K. Roberts, of Lexington, who on March 7th, guessed the entire ticket with the exception of Miss Bedford for School Superintendent.

A Gay Party.

A horseback party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Neave, Miss Harrison, Miss Longworth and Mr. Wallingford, all of Cincinnati, arrived in Paris Sunday night and stopped at the Windsor. They are making a tour of the bluegrass country, and seem to be enjoying it immensely. They left yesterday morning for Lexington, and from there will go to Danville.

Shocking Accident.

A. B. Girvin, a brakeman on the through freight between Livingston and Cincinnati, was run over and killed by his train on Saturday morning in the rear of the Windsor Hotel. The train, which left here at 1 o'clock on Saturday morning was in charge of Conductor Everett Thompson and brakemen Pierce and Girvin. As the train passed the coal chute a negro man employed there came rushing out and was struck by the train. Girvin was then on top of the train walking towards the engine. That was the last seen of him alive. When the train reached Cincinnati he was missed, and a telegram was sent to Paris to that effect. A switch engine started down the track in search of him, and when in the rear of the Windsor Hotel his body was found lying alongside the track with the head severed and on the inside of the track.

The remains were taken in charge by Undertaker Davis, and his relatives consisting of a sister and two brothers, were notified. They arrived on the afternoon train from Maysville, and the remains were taken to Maysville for interment. Girvin was a young man and very popular with his fellow employees. He had been brakeman for about a year, and was attentive to his duties. He was previous to that time a newsboy on the noon train from Cincinnati.

ANTISEPTICS are guaranteed to prevent the teeth from decaying, relieve all sensitiveness, heal bleeding gums and make the breath pure and sweet. For sale by all druggists. (tf)

The Democratic Primary.

The Democratic Primary held Saturday was one of the quietest elections ever held in this county. Not a single disturbance of any kind was reported. A very large vote was polled. Each candidate had workers at every precinct, and the fight was kept up until the polls closed at 4 o'clock. The following were the candidates selected to represent the Democratic party at the election next November, and it is a ticket which should assure an old-time Democratic victory:

Representative, Albert S. Thompson.
County Judge, H. C. Smith.
Sheriff, W. W. Mitchell.
County Clerk, Ed. D. Paton.
County Attorney, Denis Dundon.
Jailer, George W. Jody.
Coroner, Dr. Wm. Kenney.
Assessor, Harvey Hilber.
School Superintendent, Miss Nellie Bedford.
Constable, Joseph Williams.

Isn't it natural that when one thinks of buying furniture he also thinks of Hinton?

The Carnival.

The talk of the entire county and surrounding towns is the A. O. U. W. Carnival on June 12th. Such a crowd as will be in town on that day was never before seen in Paris. Everything has been arranged for their amusement. Early in the morning the salute of twenty-five guns will usher in the day of pleasure. The prize of a very handsome silver cup offered by A. J. Winers & Co., the enterprising jewellers for the handsomest decorated turnout, will insure a magnificent display. It has been made a special feature of the morning, and will take place in front of the Court House at 9 o'clock.

The mammoth parade will move promptly at 11 o'clock, headed by the famous First Regiment Band of Cincinnati. The Richmond Military Band and the Carlisle Brass Band have also been engaged.

The display of day fire works in the afternoon will be worth coming from the remotest part of the State to see. The balloon ascension will be a special feature. A novelty in connection with this will be the liberating of one thousand and slips of vari-colored paper in the sky, twenty-five of which will be good for prizes contributed by our liberal merchants, and will be paid to the finders of the slips which have their advertisements printed thereon. The entertainment at the Opera House at night will be a strictly first class vaudeville affair, and will be preceded by a display of fire works. Full particulars of the entertainment will be given in the next issue of the News.

An Unfortunate Affair.

[Paris Gazette.]
For a week past rumors of marital trouble between Mr. and Mrs. Drake Thompson have been persistently circulated. Upon investigation many of them were found to be ridiculously absurd. The public should reserve its judgment until the truth is brought out which will be done shortly. Mrs. Thompson having filed a petition for divorce. The troubles are not such that friends can not adjust, and they owe it to the couple to do this. Drake Thompson is a popular young man. His habits are exemplary. He applies himself diligently to business, and there is no reason why he should not develop into one of Louisville's leading citizens.
Mrs. Thompson is a winsome little lady, with a happy faculty for making and holding friends. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John White, and is related to several leading families of this county.

The couple were married when quite young, and it should not be surprising that differences would sometimes occur.

I have a large line of samples to select suits from, for both ladies and gentlemen. Office at Davis, Thompson & Isgrig's store. F. P. Clay, Jr. (tf)

Candidates For City Offices.

The Democratic City Committee met yesterday, and declared Mr. Geo. M. Hill the Democratic nominee for Chief of Police, and Mr. Kirby Wood the nominee for Councilman from the Third Ward, there being no opposition to either of these two gentlemen. The following are the candidates for Councilman from their respective wards, to be voted on at the Democratic primary on July 9th:

First Ward—T. Earl Ashbrook, Hugh Montgomery, James O'Brien, Fletcher Mann, Robert Lusk and James McCure.
Second Ward—D. C. Parrish, Wm. Remington, W. O. Hinton, B. M. Renick, J. U. Boardman and T. F. Braunon.

Cincinnati is in Spring attire; now is the time to visit the Queen City. (tf)

STORIES OF THE STAGE.

Coming Attractions, Gossip in the Lobby and Boxes.

THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT.

In our next issue we will publish a partial list of those who will participate in the production of the opera, "The House That Jack Built." The characters are all well taken and the rehearsals progressing satisfactorily. The part of "Mother Goose" will be taken by one of our most charming young matrons, who is the possessor of a beautiful, clear soprano voice and a good stage presence. The "Queen" is one of the most magnificent looking young ladies in the city, while the "King" will be the bit of the entertainment, a gentleman well-known and popular.

Remember the dates—Friday evening June 14th, and Saturday afternoon, June 15th, matinee.

Prices of admission, 75, 50 and 35 cts.

There seems to be a misapprehension as to who compose the Board of Health of Bourbon County, the following gentlemen compose the board: Drs. Frank Fithian, Chairman, Wash Fithian, Silas Evans, Sec'y and also Heath Officer of the city and county. These gentlemen agreed not to establish a quarantine against the county of Nicholas. The health officer having communicated with the health officer of Nicholas and is informed that the smallpox is in decline and every case there is under strict quarantine.

Stock And Crop.

Dacon Bros. have sold to an Eastern party for shipment to France, a Scarlet Wilkes filly for $1,150.

The noted race horse, Flying Dutchman, the property of Clay & Woodford, of this city, is dead of catarrhal fever.

Mr. J. S. Wilson has purchased from C. Alexander, Jr., his crop of blue grass seed amounting to in the neighborhood of 20,000 bushels and there was considerable trading yesterday. Some 60,000 bushels of seed selling to local dealers for from 50 to 55 cents per bushel.

Eight hundred head of sloop feed cattle, aggregating 1,000,000 pounds changed hands at Lexington yesterday for $50,000. The cattle were the property of Messrs. Perry and Lester, of Nashville, and were purchased by Armour & Co., of Chicago.

M. J. Murphy & Co., at the Paris Stock Yards, report a very dull market day yesterday. There was a large crowd in town, but very few cattle on the market. There were in all 160 head of cattle and 22 head of sheep. Mr. Turner sold 15 head of cattle at $15 per head, and 32 sheep at $10 per head. Jones Well sold 30 head of yearlings at $10.25 per head. Mr. Graham sold 33 head at $10 per head. About 30 head unsold.

THE FAIR.

You Do, or You Don't Need Gasses :

The eye being a rather delicate organ, great care should be exercised in the selection of proper glasses. Many believe that glasses should be restored to only when the sight becomes so defective as not to be able to do without. This is a great mistake which must be combatted. Whenever there is unmistakable evidence of the need of their aid, they should be used. A neglect of this rule sometimes produces mischief which results in serious trouble if the course be persisted in.

Our Dr. C. H. BOWEN having just returned from taking a special course in Optics from one of the best specialists in New York, is prepared to do the best of work, having the latest improved methods of fitting.

Examinations free. Next visit Thursday, June 13, 1901.

A. J. WINTERS & CO., JEWELERS, Hello, 170.

We'll Get You

If you are interested in goods that are worth the price, we will get you yet for a customer—not with knife or pistol, but with shoes that are full of merit and worth every dollar that you pay for them.

Our "Bonbrun Belle" Oxfords, for ladies, are easy to sell because they are stylish shapes; are made of fine, soft, kid, fit the foot perfectly and out wear their price. You would be willing to pay more if we asked more, but the price is only $2.50. Ask to see them. Sold only at
